

SUCCESS STORY

Army Veteran Daniel Maxwell

Today we celebrate U.S. Army Soldier Daniel Maxwell! After working with Mt. Carmel Peer Navigators, Daniel is excited about post-service career opportunities as he begins his transition from uniformed service. "I'm considering medical device sales, but I'm open to e-commerce in other industries as well. I know sales are a good fit because I place a high value on professional autonomy, and sales align with my skills and interests." These points were underscored in mock interviews with industry professionals at Mt. Carmel when Daniel received informal feedback from three local employers. Additional support included one-on-one interview preparation and resume and LinkedIn feedback. "Mt. Carmel has incredible programs and offers a wealth of resources for veterans," said Daniel. "I was impressed by their network and the opportunities offered to help transition successfully into the private sector. While it's difficult to put into words all of the emotions involved in making a significant career change, excitement is certainly one of them. I'm most excited about the opportunity for personal/professional growth in a completely new environment."
